PUBLISHED QUARTERLY
BY THE STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF WISCONSIN

THE STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF WISCONSIN

The STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF WISCONSIN is a state-aided corporation whose function is the cultivation and encouragement of the historical interests of the State. To this end it invites your coöperation; membership is open to all, whether residents of Wisconsin or elsewhere. The dues of annual members are two dollars, payable in advance; of life members, twenty dollars, payable once only. Subject to certain exceptions, members receive the publications of the Society, the cost of producing which far exceeds the membership fee. This is rendered possible by reason of the aid accorded the Society by the State. Of the work and ideals of the Society this magazine affords, it is believed, a fair example. With limited means, much has already been accomplished; with ampler funds more might be achieved. So far as is known, not a penny entrusted to the Society has ever been lost or misapplied. Property may be willed to the Society in entire confidence that any trust it assumes will be scrupulously executed.

The WISCONSIN MAGAZINE OF HISTORY is published quarterly by the Society, at 450 Ahnaip Street, Menasha, Wisconsin, in September, December, March, and June, and is distributed to its members and exchanges; others who so desire may receive it for the annual subscription of two dollars, payable in advance; single numbers may be had for fifty cents. All correspondence concerning the magazine should be addressed to the office of the State Historical Society, Madison, Wis.

Entered as second-class matter, December 17, 1917, at the post office at Menasha, Wisconsin, under the act of March 3, 1879.

AN APPEAL TO OUR MEMBERS

The WISCONSIN MAGAZINE OF HISTORY is being published for you. In our first issue, in introducing the new publication, we stated our hope to make it as interesting as possible to the ordinary reader. "As our immediate constituency," we said, "we have in mind the seven hundred members of the Society, whose tastes and interests, we have faith to believe, are shared by thousands of other citizens of Wisconsin." With this issue the Magazine has become a toddling babe of eighteen months. Since its birth many of our members and other readers have written us expressing their opinion, favorable or otherwise, of the Magazine. A number of these expressions we print in the following pages. Yet the total number received thus far represents but a small proportion of the Society's membership. With a view to enabling us to make the Magazine more interesting and valuable, we very much wish to receive the constructive criticism of members of the Society concerning it. Write anything you feel moved to submit, but by way of indicating the things we would most like to learn we suggest that you include in your communication answers to the following: What department or aspect of the Magazine pleases you most? What feature of the publication pleases you least? What would you like to see added to it? Or what change made in it as at present conducted?

We cannot guarantee, of course, compliance with all the suggestions that may be made. But we do promise to give them prayerful consideration. Should a sufficient number of worth while comments be received we may decide to print them in some future issue. They may be addressed to the Superintendent, State Historical Library, Madison.
